

WILSON NAMES DELEGATES TO PEACE MEETING

President Himself To Head American Delegation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Wilson himself will head the American delegation to the peace conference. This was announced officially tonight at the white house.

The other members of the delegation will be:

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Col. E. M. House.

Henry White, former ambassador to France and Italy.

General T. H. Bliss, former chief of staff of the army and now American military representative on the supreme war council at Versailles.

In the absence of any official explanation it was assumed the president goes as president of the United States and that Secretary Lansing, Mr. White and Colonel House and possibly also General Bliss will be delegates with ambassadorial rank. It was recalled the president's announcement that he would go to France "for the purpose of taking part in the discussion and settlement of the main features of the treaty of peace" said it was not likely he could remain through the sessions of the peace conference and that he would be accompanied by delegates who will sit as representatives of the United States through the conference.

The white house announcement tonight follows:

"It was announced at the executive offices tonight that the representatives of the United States at the peace conference would be: The president, himself, the Secretary of State, the Hon. Henry White, recently ambassador to France, Mr. Edward M. House and General Tasker H. Bliss.

"It was explained that it had not been possible to announce these appointments before because the number of representatives each of the countries was to be sent had not yet been determined.

"White house officials would add nothing to the formal statement and no one professing to be in the confidence of the president would talk. There was only one surprise in the statement—the appearance of the name of General Bliss as one of the representatives. It had been taken for granted the general military representative of the United States on the supreme war council, would take part in the discussions at Versailles, but the general idea had been he would be attached to the delegation in a military capacity just as Admiral Benson probably will be present as spokesman for the navy.

Only yesterday callers at the white house gained the distinct impression there would be but three accredited delegates of full rank. It was suggested tonight the name of General Bliss probably was added at the last moment upon receipt of information that the allied powers would include a military man among their representation.

Will Not Remain Thruout.

The premiers of Great Britain, France and Italy are expected to attend the peace conference as representatives of their governments, but like the president, may not remain through the conference. The general understanding here is that the premier plans to have the conference first agree to the broad principles of the treaty and leave the working out of details to further sittings.

This would enable the president and the entente premiers speedily to return to the capitals of their respective countries so as to give their personal attention to affairs of the home front.

Secretary Lansing, who heads the delegation proper, became secretary of state in June, 1915, when William Jennings Bryan, resigned rather than sign a note to Germany in the Lusitania case which he thought might lead to war. During the three and a half years he has followed, Mr. Lansing has conducted many difficult negotiations with the country as a neutral and as a belligerent and his name appears on all the historic documents telling the story of America's entry into the war as well as those answering Germany's peace pleas which preceded the downfall of the central alliance.

Mr. White, the Republican of the delegation, is a diplomat of long experience, who began as secretary of the American legation in Vienna in 1884. He served as secretary of embassy at various capitals represented the United States at several great international gatherings and in 1905 was appointed ambassador to Italy by President Roosevelt. Two years later he was made ambassador to France, where he remained until 1909. His last public service was 1910, when President Taft sent him to Chile as special ambassador of the United States for the celebration of the centenary of Chilean independence.

FORMER HUN WAR LORDS ASSAILED BY LLOYD-GEORGE

Says Someone Must Be Responsible for Lives

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(British Wireless Service.)—David Lloyd George, the British prime minister in a speech at New Castle today said the victory of the entente allies had been due to the ceaseless valor of their men and that it would be a lesson to anybody who in the future thought they, as the Prussian war lords, "could ever look this little island in the reckoning."

"We are now approaching the peace conference," the premier continued. "The price of victory is not vengeance nor retribution. It is prevention. First of all what about those people whom we have received without question for years to our shores; to whom we give equal rights with our own sons and daughters and who abused that hospitality to betray the land to plot against security to spy upon it and to gain such information as enabled the Prussian war lords to inflict not punishment but damage and injury on the land that had received them as guests? Never again!"

Mr. Lloyd George said the interests of security and fair play demanded that it should be made perfectly clear that the people who acted in this way merited punishment for the damage they had inflicted.

The second question was the question of indemnities, the premier added. In every court of justice through the world the party which lost has had to bear the cost of litigation. When Germany defeated France she established the principle and there was no doubt that the principle was the right one.

Must Pay Penalty.

Germany must pay the cost of the war up to the limit of her capacity.

"But I must use one word of warning," said Mr. Lloyd George. Germany is not to be allowed to pay her indemnity by dumping cheap goods upon us. That is the only limit in principle we are laying down. She must not be allowed to pay for her wanton damage and devastation by dumping cheap goods and wrecking our industries.

"There is a third and last point. Is no one to be made responsible for the war? Somebody has been responsible for a war that has taken the lives of millions of the best young men of Europe. Is not anyone to be made responsible for that? If not, all can say is that justice for the poor wretched criminal and another for kings and emperors."

Two Offenses Committed.

Mr. Lloyd George declared there were two offenses against the law of nations that had been committed.

"One," he said, "is the crime against humanity in the deliberate plotting of the war. The other is the outrage upon international law. It is crime, brutal crime, to devastate the lands of another. Whoever did that ought to be responsible for it. The submarine warfare did not mean only the sinking of ships but it was a crime against humanity in that it sank thousands of harmless merchantmen. If the whole history of warfare between nations that had never been sanctioned. It is rank piracy and the pirates must receive the punishment."

"I mean to see that the men who did not treat our prisoners with humanity are to be made responsible. I want this country to go to court with a clean conscience and she will do so. This is not a stain on her record. We will not be afraid to appear before any tribunal."

Investigation Impartial.

"Now these are the things which we have to investigate. We mean that the investigation shall be an impartial one, a perfectly fair one. We also mean that it shall be a stern one and that it shall go on to the final reckoning. We have got to act now that men in the future who feel tempted to follow the example of the rulers who plunged the world into this war will know what is awaiting them at the end of it. We shall have to see that this terrible war which has inflicted so much destruction on the world, which has arrested the course of civilization and in many ways put it back which has left marks on the minds, upon the physique and the hearts of myriads in many lands that this generation will not see obliterated—we must see by the action we take now, just, fearless and relentless that it is a crime that shall never be repeated in the history of the world."

In dealing with the question of the responsibility for the invasion of Belgium the premier said the British government had consulted some of the greatest jurists of the freedom and they unanimously and definitely had arrived at the conclusion that in their judgment the former German emperor was guilty of an indictable offense for which he ought to be held responsible.

Necessities Of Life In Vienna Very Expensive

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 29.

(By The Associated Press.)—Food was so expensive in Vienna that a meagre, unpalatable and unsatisfactory meal cost from $4 up. Clothes were so scarce that a mediocre suit sold at $500, while a pair of shoes cost from $60 to $80 a pair. The common necessities of life were so difficult to obtain that one had to stand in line for hours for a chance to purchase a tiny portion at an exorbitant price. Such was the condition of affairs just before the armistice was concluded as related to the correspondent by the last American to leave Austria.

No story yet told of the conditions in Vienna can even remotely approximate the actual facts as described by this eye-witness, whose account was given, perhaps, unconsciously, a dramatic climax by the declaration that despite the indescribable sufferings and hardships, Vienna still had horse racing attended by greater crowds than in peace times. These crowds walk eight miles to the race track and bet thousands of crowns instead of hundreds as formerly, in their feverish desire to forget the misery caused by the war.

Unable to Continue.

Austria quits, declares the diplomat, because it was a physical impossibility to continue further. Not only was Austria without food but without the common necessities. It faced winter in almost literal nakedness so scarce had clothing become. Before he left Vienna the correspondent's informant disposed of nearly every article of clothing he possessed. The demand for clothing may be judged from the fact that he realized from $3 to $4 each for neckties four years old and which originally cost $1 a piece; $100 for a ten year old suit costing $25; $250 for a tuxedo costing $100, and $100 each for three suits bought in Vienna three years before and which were shabby, ragged and worn out. Old socks, costing $1.25 and which had been darned sold for $5 a pair. An overcoat two and a half years old which cost $32 sold for $110. Badly worn and repaired shoes and cuts in the uppers brought $10; two year old shirts costing $4, brought $15 each; soft collars went for $10. A three-year old top coat brought $45.

The policeman cut the red flag from the car and placed the three men under arrest.

At Central Station they were released on their own recognizance and ordered to return to the station tomorrow.

CONTINUING BUYING WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

ADD CONTINUE BUYING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Continued practice of thrift thru purchase of war savings and thrift stamps is necessary so the government may meet the expenses of the war, provide the means of supporting the army in Europe and of bringing it back to America, said Director General McArdoo in a message sent today to all regional directors of railroads.

The regional directors were called upon to ask railroad employees of their regions to save their money and invest in war savings stamps and thrift stamps to help the government and the soldiers and sailors and also to help themselves by laying up a fund which will be a protection to them in after years.

GOVERNMENT WAR CONTRACTS ARE NOT BINDING

Hundreds of Millions of Dollars in Contracts Involved

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The government's maturing program for cancelling big war orders with the minimum disturbance to business conditions was thrown into confusion today by a decision of Comptroller Warwick of the treasury that war contracts played by telegram, telephone or mail are not legally binding and that consequently they may not be recognized thru the negotiation of terminating contracts without special legislation by congress. Officials estimated hundreds of millions of dollars in contracts are involved.

At the same time Secretary Baker announced that the war department will direct its own cancelling of contracts "in a spirit of fairness and hopefulness to all concerned."

Attorney General Gregory will be asked to pass on this apparent conflict between the law, as strictly interpreted by Comptroller Warwick whose authority grows out of his supervision of payments from the treasury and the desire of the war department to terminate contracts—both these backed up by formally signed documents and those undertaken on informal agreements—by making some sort of a lump sum payment to the contractors.

May Have to Pass Legislation.

If legislation is found to be necessary it is said an attempt will be made to rush it thru congress immediately to avoid holding up the government's great industrial demobilization and readjustment plans.

Secretary Baker has proposed a form of terminating contracts—a supplemental agreement—by which the government would be released by the contractor from the original contract and in return would pay the contractor for "expenses incurred" in carrying out the agreement and an additional allowance for profit limited to ten per cent of the cost of the unfinished articles on hand.

The war department had furnished immediately 75 per cent of the minimum due on this basis as determined by a contracting officer of the government and the balance of the time had been allowed for careful determination of the final amount.

This method, Secretary Baker said, would give plants which have devoted themselves heartily to government work, and to peace-time production and prevent "a break in their continuance of operation and employment of labor."

Warwick's Decision.

Comptroller Warwick's decision declared that "it cannot be assumed as the proposed contract does, that the contractor anticipates profits from completing his contract. There may be contractors willing to terminate their existing contracts and accept a termination clause or not, on terms more favorable to the government than are contained in the proposed form. It is possible same may be willing to terminate existing contracts on the basis of payment for what is delivered before termination."

The comptroller also said that the "making of the supplemental agreement and the simple certifying to a minimum amount by the contracting officer upon the statement and estimate of a contractor will not be sufficient nor conclusive upon the accounting officers."

This referred to the payment made by accountants working under the direction of the comptroller of the treasury. He added that the supplemental agreement cannot be permitted to impose a liability upon the government where none therefore existed."

Thousands of contracts have been signed in this manner by proxies of the army officers duly authorized by the secretary of war. The name of the officer in these cases was typewritten at the end of the contract.

It was explained the rush of war preparations made this system necessary in the interest of speed.

ALL S. A. T. C.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The complete demobilization of the student army training corps comprising units in hundreds of institutions thruout the country has been decided upon by the war department. In making the announcement Secretary Baker said in some cases, the demobilization will start immediately and the plans of the department contemplate the breaking up of every unit by Jan. 1.

DETROIT TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES RECEIVE RAISE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Increased wages for telephone employees in Detroit, together with increased rates for telephone service will become effective Dec. 1. The manager of the Detroit system was so informed today by Postmaster General Barlow. The amount of the increases in each case now is being worked out and may be announced tomorrow.

FORMER EMPEROR CHARLES SICK.

Amsterdam, Nov. 28.—Thurs.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria, is suffering from a mental depression, according to an Innsbruck dispatch to the Koenig Zeitung of Berlin. He sits for hours at his desk, starved and much distressed by her husband's state of health.

Eight Months Needed To Bring Yankees Home

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Boston, New York, Newport News, Va., and Charleston, S. C., are the ports the war department now plans to use for the return of the army from overseas. Even with this wide distribution of the strain on port facilities and transportation, however, and with German ships now idle in German harbors employed on the task, careful estimates show the last of the army could not possibly reach the United States in less than eight months. Conservative calculations upon which preparations by the department probably will be based fix ten months as the minimum.

These estimates have been made wholly on the basis of the physical difficulties to be overcome and do not take into account the question of retention in Europe of some time of an American force which may be agreed upon at the peace conference. If the returning movement already in progress is continued at full speed, the last division in all probability could not reach the United States before October, 1919. Decision to route the troops to the four ports mentioned in the department's plan have been based on two main considerations. First, they have been equipped to handle the transports and the men, and second, they are the natural gateways to the country, each fed by an independent rail system ramifying back thru geographically independent sections of the United States. By loading the ships as far as possible with revenue bill, the port from which it will be possible, many officers say to avoid cross-carriage and disruption of normal traffic in getting the soldiers from the ships to their homes.

In estimating for transport tonnage available for the movement officials have not looked ahead to the new ships which will be delivered during the demobilization period by the shipping board, but also upon idle German ships released by the contractor from the original contract and in return would pay the contractor for "expenses incurred" in carrying out the agreement and an additional allowance for profit limited to ten per cent of the cost of the unfinished articles on hand.

The German vessels east bound after unloading American troops would carry food supplies to be allotted Germany.

Among the known German steamers is the Imperator, almost as large as the Vaterland, now the Levathian. The two new German liners are of approximately the same size as these craft. Each of these four could carry nearly ten thousand men a trip.

DAATH SENTENCE OF MOONEY COMMUTED

By California Governor to Life Imprisonment—Protests Against Commutation of Sentence.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The death sentence of Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of murder in connection with the bomb explosion which killed ten people here July 22, 1916, during a preparedness day parade, having been commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Stephens last night, no further legal action can be invoked in Mooney's behalf, attorneys said today. Mooney who was an iron moulder by trade, will be removed from the death cell, which he has occupied in San Quentin penitentiary since July 17, of this year, and given employment with other prisoners. Many strikes had been planned for December 9 by labor organizations as a protest against Mooney's execution, which was scheduled for December 13. Whether these proposed strikes now will be carried out, labor leaders here were unable to say today.

From his cell Mooney issued a statement protesting against commutation of his sentence: "I would rather hang," he said than to be condemned to a living grave." Mooney also appealed to labor leaders to continue their efforts in his behalf.

SENATE FINISHES REVISION OF BIG REVENUE BILL

Measure May Not Be Enacted By Present Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The senate finance committee completed revision of the war revenue bill designed to raise $6,000,000,000 in taxes in 1919 and about $1,000,000,000 in 1920. The measure is virtually re-written to meet changed conditions attending the end of the war. It was expected in all quarters that it would be reported to the senate next week.

Senate debate, Senator Simmons said tonight, may begin shortly afterward.

With Republicans lined up solidly in opposition to inclusion of 1920 tax rates in the bill it was conceded in all quarters that discussion in the senate will delay passage of the measure and many senators expressed doubt that it can be enacted before March 3, the date of the ending of the final session of the fifty-fifth congress. In view of the expected delay, senate leader and treasury department official alike are concerned over the question of collecting taxes next year as it is now admitted that unless the new law is enacted before January 1, collections must be made under the present revenue bill, the portion of which is only about four billion of dollars. Several expedients including adoption of emergency legislation incorporating some of the features of the pending bill are under consideration. Senator Simmons said tonight he doubted whether the Republicans would file a minority report attacking the 1920 tax program and added they might content themselves with making vigorous opposition to that proposal on the floor of the senate.

New Postage Rates.

In completing the bill to finance the committee adopted an amendment establishing new second class postage rates, effective when the revenue bill becomes a law. It provides for repeal of the present graduated zone rates on newspapers, magazines and other periodicals and substitutes a rate of one cent per pound within an area of 200 miles from mailing points and 1½ cents a pound outside that area.

The committee also adopted another amendment for restoration on July 1, 1919 of the two cents an ounce rates on letters and one cent on post cards.

Some senators believe the second class postal rate amendment will be vigorously opposed by publishers, who have disapproved any zone system of postal rates as unjust and discriminatory.

Another amendment adopted today and expected to cause much debate imposes a tax of ten per cent on products of child labor and other transported in interstate commerce.

The amendment is designed to accomplish the purposes of the law, recently declared unconstitutional by the supreme court under which products of child labor were barred from interstate commerce.

J. S. RESUMES TRADE WITH SIBERIA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Trade with Siberia has been started under the direction of the war trade boards recently organized under the new bureau, announced Chairman McCormick of the board announced today three vessels have been despatched from Pacific ports to Vladivostok carrying commodities which representatives of the Russian bureau have designated as being urgently needed in Siberia.

Additional ships will sail from time to time. Mr. McCormick said in urging that shippers file applications for licenses to export to Russia such goods as will find a ready market.

Florida must be thoroughly dry if the members of the legislature correctly represent the sentiment of the people. In the recent vote on the prohibition constitutional amendment in that state approval was given by a vote of 25 to 2 in the senate and 61 to 1 in the house. They might as well have made it unanimous.

Some of the automobile manufacturers are among the first to indicate that manufacturer products are likely to return to the pre-war levels. At least two auto manufacturing concerns have this week announced materials drops in prices of their cars for the 1919 models. There may not be lower wages paid to employees, but the prices of manufacturing materials must certainly be going to reach lower levels.

MORE MONEY FOR CITIES

Chicago, city authorities are preparing to bombard the legislature for a law making it possible to increase the city's general taxes. Now the law allows a tax of $1.20 per $100 and twice that amount is desired. Properly owners will of course object but it is very true unless cities find relief from financial stress thru taxation there must be heavy curtailment of the public service that cities furnish. What is true of Chicago applies to all the cities thruout the state. The costs of doing business have increased to such an extent that city treasuries are more than depleted.

Jacksonville people know all about this subject and the empty treasury here is duplicated all over Illinois. This seems to be the case where Chicago and down state will unite in seeking legislative relief.

ZONE SYSTEM FOR FUEL BROUGHT GOOD RESULTS

The U. S. fuel administration has not done everything to the liking of the people but there have been unquestioned benefits from the zone system established in the distribution of coal. This system was made possible by the close co-operation of the railroad and fuel administration and has been a big factor in making the supply of soft coal equal the industrial and domestic demand. So well has this been done that no shortage now exists and it is an easy matter to buy coal from the mine.

Experts estimated earlier in the year that the system would save 160,000,000 car miles. It was estimated that the movement of bituminous affected by the zone system would involve 300,000,000 tons, or 60 per cent of the total output of the country. Since April 1 it is estimated that 348,858,000 net tons of bituminous have been produced and delivered, 60 per cent of which was handled under zone-system regulations.

THE MOST FITTING MEMORIAL

For several days of the Chicago Tribune has been devoting space to letters from readers suggesting what, in their opinion, will be the most fitting type of memorial for American heroes who have fallen in the war. While many of these letters suggest monuments or shafts of the type generally approved for memorial purposes, a still larger number believe that the memorial should take on some useful form. One suggested is a great social service center, another a hospital providing in addition to the care of the sick, a department for research work.

Either of these latter suggestions is quite in line with the spirit which prompted America's participation in the war. It was for humanity's sake that this nation was willing to enter the conflict and to make every needed sacrifice. So in commemorating the deeds of those who have made the supreme sacrifice, nothing could be more appropriate than a memorial which will bestow some material benefit upon mankind. Such a monument would surely much more truly typify the American spirit than can be true of a shaft of bronze marble.

LOOKING TOWARD CHRISTMAS

Thanksgiving, notwithstanding gloomy weather conditions, was one of the greatest holidays that America ever spent, chiefly because of the genuine thankfulness that the war is over and America has been saved the expected sacrifice of thousands of additional lives. Now everything points to a most cheerful observance of Christmas. Thousands of soldiers who were expected to be in cantonments or making the perilous journey overseas will be at their homes. There will be Christmas cheer where little was expected in that line. As an indication of coming festivities one can note the increasing activities in the shopping district. The government request for early buying had its effect and more "resents" than usual have already been purchased and put away. But it was true that giving had not promise to be as general for this Christmas of 1918 as in previous years. Now the war is over, the restrictions on various kinds of business have been lifted and there will be more gift giving this year than ever before.

The tendency may still be toward useful gifts—and that is as it should be—but Christmas 1918, is going down into the records as both the most joyous and the most generously observed of any Christmas holiday for decades.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

THE KRONPRINZ His voice for war was always lifted, as on his futile course he drifted. He promised men, "When I am kaiser, in war I'll be the early riser." He visioned conquest on the morrow, and gave no thought to tears and sorrow, to all the woe the world should suffer exulting such a peppy duffer. They say that Bill, his bloodied head, with bloodshed didn't want to bother, until he saw the kronprinz getting all kinds of glory and petting; then, jealous of the rat-faced smartie, he went and joined the bloodshed party. I fear the kronprinz more than Billy; he gives me fantasies fierce and chilly. No matter who may be acquitted, the kronprinz shouldn't be permitted to dwell in Germany and twitter of war, the bloody-minded critter. It may subdue him and improve him if to some island we remove him, where he may live in cave and coral, and watch the doggone swordfish quash and bubble, there large, to froth and bubble, there so let us place him in the cooler, where he can never be a ruler.

REGARDING THE "FLU"

Regarding the flu situation, Dr. E. F. Baker, says he regards one of the most important means of stamping out the trouble is the strict quarantine of the afflicted families. He says the city should have one or two extra commissioned police, or more if need be, and they should see to it that a strict quarantine of all afflicted families is maintained. They should visit the houses and take orders for supplies and see to it that no one from the dwelling leaves the premises.

The hard feature of the case is that of a laboring man who must support his family. That man, if need be, should be assisted in boarding somewhere else for the time being. Of course the city has no money to pay the police and the funds should be raised by private subscription. This seems to Dr. Baker to be the best solution of the trouble.

Before payment can be made a state legislature appropriation is required.

THE STORY OF A DOG

A story is being told of a resident of Crackers Bend who recently purchased a fine kitchen range. It is said that one cold night afterward the family dog, looking for a warm place, crawled into the open oven. In the morning someone shut the oven door, wholly unaware that the dog was inside. An hour or two later there was a distinct odor of burning meat and this led to the discovery of the "baked" dog. The dog is the story sent to the Journal by mail but it fails to relate how it happened that the dog during this burning and baking process never recorded a single growl or whine.

A notice reading as follows has just been sent out by Mr. Haskell: "When your soldier comes home be sure to have him stop in Watt Moser's gallery and have a picture taken in military uniform. ## THE OATH

The following lines have been sent to the Journal in an anonymous communication signed "A Friend." They were a strong "reproach" spirit but are printed here for whatever they may be worth. While deeply deploring the world war and thinking no punishment too great for the German war lords who were those mainly to blame for the conflict, there are many people who do not include the German people in the same category and who believe that repressive and the determination to give Germany commercial punishment will only serve to propagate hate. These are the lines:

I will not drink from a German cup.
Or eat from a German plate.
I will not deal with a German man
All foul with German hate.
I will use no drug with a German name.
That's grown on German land;
I will eat no food nor drink no beer
If made by a German hand.
I will not use a German tool.
Razor, knife or saw;
I will not trade with a German shop.

That lives by German law.
I will not sail on a German ship
Where German songs are sung;
I will not breathe where God's clear air
Is soiled by German tongue.
I will not forget those awful deeds
To little girls and boys,
No more I hang on a Christmas tree
Those blood-stained German toys.
I will not take a German's word,
He'll break it if he can;
There's no love in a German's heart
Or faith in a German man.
This is my oath when war is done
I will swear to keep it true.
And since I know you feel the same
I will pass it on to you.

LIEUT. ALLAN HOME FROM CAMP TAYLOR
Lieut. Robert Allan has returned from Camp Taylor and now is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan in the Riggs neighborhood. Lieut. Allan went with the Scott county delegation last August. He speedily made a good showing and was appointed a corporal. Some weeks later on he was chosen on the basis of his record for the officers' training camp and recently finished the course and was commissioned a second lieutenant. The closing of the war means that he will not now go on with active service, but his record is one of which both he and the people of his home community can well be proud. From the very first he was enthusiastic about cantonment life and returns home in fine physical condition.

Why worry about butter, or its price, when there are substitutes which are just as pure, just as nourishing, just as palatable, and so much cheaper?

WITH THE COLORS

From Sergt. H. Jay Rodgers.

The following letter from Sergt. H. Jay Rodgers, has been received by relatives here: 30th, October, 1918.

Dear Folks:— There was a good joke sprung at a concert last night. The service star on Edith's writing paper reminded me of it. A fellow said "Father, take down your service flag, your boy's in the Military Police." It brought a good laugh but the fact still remains that when the show is on the M. P.'s have a big part in the play.

We have moved again. Our moves are not always planned according to the traditional March 1st, Moving Day. Incidentally, rambling is not a very favorable pastime to mix with correspondence.

The clippings and other samples of what is doing at home were all very interesting. From there, news gets to us much faster than if the whole paper were mailed, second class.

You have all seen the fisherman's colony at Matanzas. Imagine that, so much larger scale and substitute a hard road. There you have an idea of our present quarters. They would never be mistaken for "Brownstone" fronts, but they are very cozy and comfortable.

I believe that I said in another letter that I had a letter from Mr. Spoons. He was in Paris at the time.

We (the sergts' mess) have broken into society. We entertained at dinner yesterday. Our guests were Y. M. C. A. people, a concert party, consisting of two men and two ladies. We cleaned all up and put on a lot of "dog" and had a peach of a time. The party was exceptional, to our guests, in that the "highest in command" was an enlisted man. They are accustomed to dining with generals and colonels and the like, you know. They were quite surprised that a "small boy" like Brownie Merrill should be an M. P. They didn't know how old he was.

The United Welfare Agency campaign had some size to it. There's one thing about all this war, and is that many a so-called tightwad has loosened up, or these campaigns would never get over. Still, I may be all wrong in thinking that. Perhaps interest has been centered in the Y., etc, where it had never been so strong before.

We have received certain bulletins that make us feel mighty good. As soon as some locations have been straightened out by the powers that be—we may be taking the role of an "old soldier and yarn spinner"—who knows? My! But there'll be lots of young, old soldiers after this "Joke" (as the Australians call the war).

If you have never talked to a genuine dyed-in-the-wool Australian, you have missed a treat.

We have been "relieved" for about a week now and it is quite a pleasure to get away from the Boom and Whiz-Bang, that characterizes the front. Fourth of July celebrations will seem tame after some of the exhibitions put on over here.

I had an option on a seven-day leave, beginning last night, but didn't take it. Some of our boys went. But I figured that I'd just stick around "home", not having nearly so much as enough francs in my belt to enjoy a leave properly.

How does it seem to drive around town on real pavements? I guess that we boys will be strangers in a strange city by the time we get home.

In one of your letters you spoke of considerable interest in some Boche souvenirs. They are quite common here and I hadn't thought about their being of any interest. I use a helmet for a wash bowl. They're fine for that—you know, I'll try to send you something.

McGinnis is sure getting lots of trips to Jacksonville, isn't he? He's mighty lucky.

Well, folks, this hasn't been much of a letter. I'm almost discouraged for today—but the evidence furnished by the letter itself is sufficient to prove health and happiness. As for health it was never better. When I left home my trousers were 31 The last issue I required a 36—what do you think of that?

Oh! yes, I called on Louis Johnston last night. He's a lieutenant with a field hospital unit, and he heard that some Jacksonville boys were near and sent for me to come down. (You know, we don't always hob-nob with officers, without request or permission. That's part of military etiquette. He had been in Chicago for several years you know. He smokes good cigars and is a very fine fellow. We had quite a visit.

Give my best regards to my friends around the neighborhood and, as the French might say in ending a letter, "Adieu, mon ami, I love for all of you."

Love and plenty of it to you all. Sergt. H. Jay Rodgers. Co. A, 108th, M. P., A. P. O. 750, American E. F.

P. S. Have you ever heard of the motto of the three H's? "Hell, Heaven or Hoboken by Xmas."

Lost Vas in the shuffle of our last move. We had a good time while together, tho.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Conservation which will make possible the sending of 20,000,000 tons of food for 300,000,000 hungry people in Europe will be urged upon the American people thru an intensive campaign which will open Sunday. The food administration has issued a large number of placards bearing the words: "Don't stop saving food," which will supplement the war conservation motto of "save food."

FUEL ADMINISTRATION
FIXES COAL PRICES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Present prices as fixed by the fuel administrator range from $2.35 to $4.95 a ton at the mines. Dr. Garfield said it may be possible to abandon the zone system of distribution of bituminous coal by the middle of December, but that action to this end will be taken only after consultation with the railroad administration. The fuel administrator said he "could not take his hands off" the anthracite situation until the winter is over. This was taken to mean that the government will continue its control over anthracite coal until the end of the coal year, April 1, and that the fuel administration will continue to act until that time.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES ESTABLISHED.

Washington, Nov. 29.—To aid returning soldiers to secure jobs the federal employment service is to establish agencies in every city and town over the country. Instructions to immediately proceed with the work of setting up these organizations were sent to regional directors of the service today by Nathan A. Smyth, assistant director general. The service previously had decided to have an agent at each demobilization camp to direct men to jobs, but these additional agencies were decided upon on the assumption that most of the returning soldiers will desire jobs in their home towns.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Under instructions issued today by Postmaster General Burleson no letter mail will be accepted by postoffice in the United States for delivery to members of the American Expeditionary Forces without a return address on the envelope. The order was issued at the request of the war department so proper disposition may be made of mail carrying letters for members of the expeditionary forces who have returned to the United States.

CHURCH WEDDING AT VIRGINIA

Marriage of Roy E. Jokisch and Miss Josephine Sudbrink Performed Before Large Company of Guests.

Virginia, Ill., Nov. 29.—The marriage of Mr. Roy E. Jokisch and Miss Josephine Sudbrink was solemnized at the Presbyterian church here. Thanksgiving evening. A large company of relatives and friends was present for the ceremony, which was said by Rev. M. B. Wiles, pastor of the church. A delightful musical program was provided by Frank Collins at the organ, accompanied by Gerald Gill in the violin. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Fisher of Illinois and Miss Haze Belle Long of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Otto Wernsing was matron of honor. The groom's best man was Otto Wernsing of Greenview and the ushers were Oswald Jokisch and Blane Anderson. The master of ceremonies was R. C. Taylor. The ring service was used and the organ sounded softly as the vows were spoken.

Following the church ceremony a wedding reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sudbrink, and there more than 200 guests came to extend their congratulations and express good wishes. The house decorations, like those in the church, were very effective, chrysanthemums being used profusely. The refreshments served accorded with the other generous preparations for the entertainment of the guests.

The bride after attending the schools of Virginia, became a student at Rockford college and graduated there. She has done special work in music and has been active in the social, musical and church life of Virginia for several years.

Mr. Jokisch after completing his education, began the business of farming which he has followed in a very successful way. He is one of the high class men at his home community and he and his bride begin their married life very happily. They belong to two of the best known families in Cass county.

After a northern trip they will be at their farm home in Cass county located a few miles from Virginia.

Why the Estate Hot
Storm Eclipses all
Others

The interior arrangement of this wonderful heater—shows why it is a wonderful heater. The outward appearance of the Hot Storm is that of an ordinary stove—but inside is housed a marvelous heating system—built just like a hot air furnace. It radiates heat upward, downward and every which way and continually shoots out an enormous volume of pure hot air into the room.

Half to three-quarters of all heat generated in the ordinary stove is wasted—shot up the chimney. In the Estate Hot Storm the loss of heat is reduced to the minimum. The Little Furnace blocks the upward rushing heat, absorbing it and throwing it back against the radiating surfaces of the stove proper. This results in an amazing saving in fuel—a saving so great that your Estate Hot Storm will pay for itself in a few seasons. And after that it will pay you.

CHURCH-CLOSING
ORDER CRITICIZED

Los Angeles Judge, Before Whom Case was Tried, Expresses Doubt as to Right of Council to Discriminate by Enactment.

A Jacksonville citizen has submitted the following which appeared recently in the Christian Science Monitor under a Los Angeles, California, date line: "The church-closing case growing out of the influenza ordinance was called for trial on Friday. In discussing constitutional objections to the ordinance, Judge White, before whom the case was tried, said: 'There seems to be some merit in the contention of the defendant's council that the Los Angeles City Council has apparently picked out those who are bent upon entertainment or worshiping their Creator as being the persons most liable to spread influenza, and, after declaring as a legislative body that such assemblies are unlawful, attempts to delegate to the health commissioner of Los Angeles the privilege of saying what other congregations of people might cause influenza to spread.'"

"One of the first and cardinal rules of the valid exercise of police power is that that exercise shall be uniform, as well as reasonable, and the council cannot undertake, in the case of epidemics, to pick out certain assemblies and declare them a menace to public health and then say as to other congregations of people, 'we will leave it to the health commissioner to determine whether or not they are a menace to public health.'"

"If 20 people are not permitted to congregate in a church, 20 people should not be permitted to congregate in any other place. The council undertakes to say that if you meet in a church, or you meet in a theater, or you meet in a dance hall, then you are spreading influenza. But if you meet in your home, or if you meet in a department store, or any other place, you are not spreading the disease, although the same people might meet in the department store as in the church.

"Can they single out churches and theaters and prohibit assemblies of people in them, and at the same time permit other people who may not care to go to church or to a theater, but would care to party in their home? Can they permit that assembly to congregate and deny to people the right to congregate in churches? If they deny the right of 20 people to assemble in a church, surely they must deny the right of 20 people to meet in a department store, a bank, or a home.

"The constitution has always guarded the right of personal liberty and assembly in order that people may freely worship their Creator as they see fit, and the constitution is not now suspended. These are my views at the present time, but I will reserve a ruling and give a written opinion on the defendant's objection."

MEANS MANY CHANGES

Definite Instructions About Demobilization Expected Soon—Arrangement Will Be Fair in Settlement.

Lieut. Pleas Hardwick of the S. A. T. C. unit at Illinois College was ordered to report in Chicago Friday morning. Later this order was rescinded and he is to report Monday. As previously indicated, no particulars were given when the order was sent, but Lieut. Hardwick believes that he is to report in Chicago for instructions with reference to demobilization of the unit here. Capt. Coon has been for several days in Nashville, Tenn., visiting relatives.

No further facts with reference to the government plans for the demobilization of S. A. T. C. units have been made known but it is known that authorities of every college or university where the units were organized have received letters of inquiry from the government with reference to the demobilization order. It is said that the government is asking each institution what the authorities believe will be a fair basis of settlement between the government and the institutions. In each case the contract was made for the continuance of the unit until July 1, 1919. In many of the institutions considerable expense was incurred in preparing quarters for the young men in training. It was necessary to have barracks in addition to mess halls. Other physical changes have been made necessary in order to meet the new conditions. Then there has been expense by increase in faculties and curriculum have been rearranged to meet the unusual conditions.

While in many of the institutions a majority of the students will remain for college study there, will doubtless be hundreds of members of the units who when the demobilization order is carried into effect will return to their homes or the occupations in which they had previously engaged. College and university authorities must meet some difficult problems in connection with the readjustment necessarily accompanying demobilization, but they have the full assurance that the government will treat each institution fairly so that no financial loss will be sustained. In connection with this fact the institution authorities have the knowledge that in preparing for the accommodation and training of units they were engaged in an important and patriotic part of the general military plans of the government.

LIEUT. HARDESTY
IS IN PARIS

Three Brothers in Army Service May Meet On French Soil.

Dr. H. L. Griswold has received a letter from Lieut. T. O. Hardesty, written from Paris. After a brief return visit to an eastern camp Lieut. Hardesty sailed for overseas several weeks ago and landed at Liverpool. Shortly afterward he was transferred to Paris and in the letter to Dr. Griswold states that he is awaiting orders at the French capital. Lieut. Hardesty's brother, Capt. John Hardesty, who has been a German prisoner for many months, is well according to a message received by the family.

It seems that a resident of Iowa in the army service was taken prisoner at the same time and after several months' imprisonment managed to escape. It was he who sent word that Capt. Hardesty was alive and well. Still another brother, Joseph Hardesty, is in the overseas service and it is not unlikely that since peace has been declared the brothers may meet on French soil.

WAS ARTHUR VANNIER'S MOTHER

Why Have Colds?

There is just one reason. The blood, kidneys, lungs and skin pores are often so busy working to throw off poisons created by constipation that they cannot, at the same time, overcome colds, too.

If you keep your system entirely free from food-waste, it is a different story, for then colds have no chance. But if you allow food-waste to remain in the system it creates dangerous poisons which are absorbed into the blood and distributed all over your body. Stop this grave danger. Colds often turn into influenza and pneumonia.

This is easy to avoid. Your druggist has a truly pleasant tasting

new salts—SALINOS—fully effective if taken in cold water, which will completely empty the entire digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. It is pleasant in action as well as in taste. Get a bottle from your druggist for a Quarter (larger sizes fifty-cents and a dollar.)

Be safe! Get it today! Use it tomorrow morning.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Never before in history has there been as good a time as at the present to buy land as an investment. With the war over, business will get on a solid basis. The United States will have to replenish the devastated countries, which is going to take a long time; we have the ships to do our exporting, we have the materials, we have the provisions and the men to put it there. Prices on farm products are bound to be high and land will be higher. That land is a safe investment is proven by large capitalists making inquiries, the last few days, with the prospect of buying large tracts of land. I have farms of all sizes and kinds. Come and see what I have to offer. Also, city property of all kinds, and money to loan.

PUBLIC SALE HELD AT WHITE HALL

Livestock and Farm Implements of F. R. Stubblefield Totals $6,671—Other White Hall News of Interest.

White Hall, Nov. 29.—The Stubblefield sale of farm implements and live stock was held Wednesday under the most favorable weather conditions, and the results were more than satisfactory, cattle bringing high prices, and the sale totaling $6,671. F. R. Stubblefield and his sisters, Misses Mary and Laura, will move into the Tunison residence property at once, they having purchased this desirable White Hall property during the past summer. This ends the Stubblefield connection with the farm that was purchased by the late James Stubblefield in 1852 from Tillery Johnson, Joseph Johnson and Glasgow Humphrey, the latter part of Mr. Stubblefield's acquirement being made in 1862. It is located three miles southeast of White Hall, and comprises 283.31 acres, and has been purchased by George W. Gilmore of Greenfield. Miss Mary Stubblefield will spend the winter in Florida.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, and were largely attended. The singing was by a large community chorus under the direction of Miss Emma Duncan, and the proceedings were very impressive throughout. The sermon was by the pastor of the Christian church, Rev. E. C. Lucas. All the local pastors assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Garabrant left this morning on their return to Jersey City, New Jersey, after a vacation visit with White Hall relatives at the home of T. N. Hull. Mr. Garabrant is an official of the Pennsylvania railroad, and gets out here most every year.

The state board of health has approved the action of the local board in removing the last vestige of the influenza quarantine, there being very few cases here. The local board made their final official visit to the school Wednesday morning and found health conditions to be good. This is the third week of school.

OBITUARY OF JOSEPH DE FRATIES.

Joseph DeFraties was born in the Island of Madeira, Sept. 25, 1855. When a small child he came to this country with his mother, three brothers and a sister, all but one of whom have passed on before him.

In the late 50's he was married to Mary Smith, and shortly afterward, at the outbreak of the Civil War, enlisted for service in defense of the Union. He was made corporal and served three years in Co. C, 101 Illinois Volunteers, marching with Sherman to the sea. He was mustered out to this city, where he engaged in the grocery business for a number of years, until ill health compelled him to retire. He was a member of Northminster church and of the S. P. Ph. lodge.

He is survived by his wife, three children, Mrs. George Day, Mrs. John C. Fernandes and Joseph DeFraties, Jr., four grandchildren, Anne E., George H., Harold and Phillip Day, and three great grandchildren.

He fell a victim to pneumonia, and passed beyond at 12:25 Tuesday night. For several years he had been in failing health, but always bore his sufferings unflinchingly and uncomplainingly so that those about him never knew how great his sufferings really were. He was young in spirit, and had a cheery word for everyone. His name was a synonym for honesty, and his word was as good as his bond. He was kind and generous, and made a deed of charity made life easier and hearts lighter for those to whom he was a benefactor.

His last hours, the full of pain, like his life were filled with thoughts of his family, especially for those of others whom he knew were ill. His passing leaves in the lives of those who loved him great sorrow and loneliness but the heavy clouds of grief are shot thru with the gold of pleasant memories.

He died, as he lived, a soldier, heroic in his life and his sufferings, and leaves to his children the rich heritage of a long, useful, helpful life, fair dealing, and unselfishness service for others. It can be truly said that the world is better for his life, and poorer for his passing.

MRS. HERMAN'S NEPHEW WRITES

Mrs. J. Herman has received a letter from her nephew, Harry Siff, in France. He is one of ten nephews in the service and yet has not had the pleasure of meeting any one of them. He says he and four others were living in a little affair, something like a shack, and using an old cook stove with which they were getting along very well doing their cooking, dishwashing and the like. He says it makes him think of stories he had read when a boy.

He says he had not seen and known of German atrocities and devastation he would not have believed what was come. His letter was written Nov. 7th. He said he looked for a quick finish of the war. One cousin was over 'he top four times.

THE GOLD MEDAL SPEECH IS OUTLINED

Fred A. Wirth of Chicago won the Four-Minute Men Contest Over One Hundred and Twenty Seven Competitors.

Fred A. Wirth of Chicago won the gold medal offered by the Illinois division of the Four-Minute Men. The contest brought out a total of one hundred and twenty-eight manuscripts and Mr. Wirth's effort was the unanimous choice of the judges, who were Charles H. Woolbert, Hugh S. Magill, Jr., and C. D. Hardy. The following is the address prepared by Mr. Wirth:

I am a Four-Minute Man.
I am the Mouth-Piece of Democracy.

I make men Think.
I wield the most potent power of Human Endeavor—

The Spoken Word.
The blind do not read—the ignorant cannot read—the dullard will not read—but All Men must hearken to my message.

My appeal is universal—elemental—primitive.

I was a rowing Shepherd. I came back to my tribe and told of a Far Country, green with pastures. My message reached Abraham. He led his tribe forth and founded a great people Israel.

Again, I was a Nomad Slave. I returned to my people, groaning under the fetters of Pharaoh and told of a beautiful land beyond the desert. My tidings came to the ears of Moses and he led his Chosen People to the Promised Land.

Again, I was a Wandering Monk. To the High and Low, I brought the tale of the Holy Land suffering under Moslem oppression. My appeal inspired the Great Crusade.

Again, I was a Wayfaring Mariner, spreading strange rumors of unknown lands, beyond the seas. Columbus heard my message—set sail and discovered a New World.

Thus it is, that the destinies of humanity have been swayed and directed by the Spoken Word.

Today my appeal is more compelling—more potent—more universal than ever.

I am a Stoker for the Great Melting Pot. In four minutes I breathe the flame of the true American Patriotism to people of all kinds and creeds.

I am a Soldier. I fight German propaganda, intrigue, falsehoods, treachery.

I am a teacher. I set forth in 240 seconds, lessons in loyalty, duty, thrift, conservatism, co-operation.

I am a Clarion. I sound the call for men to serve their country. I summon help for the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross.

I am a salesman. I sell Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps.

I am a Preacher. Using the text that all men are equal, I invoke Loyalty, Patriotism, Devotion.

I am a Doctor. I give four-minute treatments for disloyalty, un-Americanism, selfishness, laziness. I eradicate apathy, listlessness and instill "pep" and enthusiasm.

I am a Lawyer. Before a jury of all races and creeds, I indict old world standards of caste, class distinction, privileges and false pride.

I am an Efficiency Engineer. I plead for the elimination of waste and carelessness and the practice of economy and conservation.

I am an Optimist. I have faith in the triumph of Truth and Right over might and Brute Force.

I am a Prophet. I predict the doom of Despotism and Autocracy and the triumph of Liberty and Democracy.

I am a Lover. I love the Stars and Stripes. I love to think that this nation under God is having a new Birth of Freedom and that Government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

I am the Mouth-Piece of Democracy.

I make men Think.
I am a Four-Minute Man.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

S. A. T. C. Unit Enjoyed the Day in Royal Fashion—Feature of the Day Was the Dinner—Athletic Contests, a Sing and Moving Pictures Went to Make Up a Pleasant Day.

If Bill Hohenzollern had been on the campus and in the mess hall at Illinois College Thursday the day would have been a fine one for the fact that the armistice had been signed before that body of men reached the battle front for nothing could have prevented them from marching straight thru to Berlin.

Merriment, good cheer, friendly athletic contests, hilarious fun, a sumptuous dinner, were some of the features that characterized the day while the evening saw a fine entertainment of moving pictures, the work, mainly, of Rev. W. E. Collins, the efficient "Y" secretary.

The Athletics
The games in the morning were vigorously contested and showed that army drill had been good for the physical welfare of the young men in training.

Reveille was sounded at the usual time and if any ate less than usual at breakfast it was because they were waiting for the sumptuous dinner they knew would follow. Then all adjourned to the campus where Sergeants Capps, Whisler and Crouch respectively, had charge of the first, second and third platoons. Orderly Rankin served as caller.

In the relay race the first platoon carried off the honors, the second the second and the third the third.

In the wheelbarrow race Keys was driver and Sheppard made the outfit while for the third Hohn and Mendenhall appeared and won while the first platoon was second and the second third.

In the best looking man contest the first platoon put forward Alsup; the second named Dunlap and the third Ross. In this the first went to Dunlap, the second to Ross and the third to Alsup.

The cross country race had for its course, Whipple down College avenue to Church street, up Church to State, State to Park and Whipple. In this Thurman of the first won with Badger of the second, second, and Burrus of the third third.

In the manual of arms Lieut. Redstrom acted as drill master. Crouch won first, Wilson of the second, second, and Carpenter of the third was third.

In the crab race, Thurman of the first platoon took first; Wells of the third took second and Fierke of the second took third.

The pairs for the three legged race were: Bayless and Antrobus; Claude H. Cully and Litter; George Harney and Fox for the three platoons respectively. The first platoon won first; the third second and the second third.

The foot race was one of speed and rhythm the men marching in lock step. The honors went first to the second, second to the third, and third to the first.

By points the squads had, first 26; second, 23; third, 32 and won the prize which was announced at mess.

Dinner

At 1:30 p. m. the bugle sounded "fall in and get your rations" which meant assembly in the mess hall, to which purpose the gymnasium building has been converted. There the efficient work of the supply sergeant, Lewis D. Yaeger, was apparent. The place was handsomely decorated with means secured from the company fund and presented an attractive appearance while enlivening strains from J. Bart Johnson's orchestra added an attractive feature of the day. The menu was simply superb and enjoyed by youthful appetites whetted by vigorous exercise and the way in which the contents of the plates disappeared was marvelous.

The occasion was graced by the presence of Mrs. J. R. Redstrom, wife of Lieut. Redstrom, and Contract Surgeon, Dr. David Reid, was on hand in case his services were needed, but they were not. Everything passed off in this part of the program without a hitch and all seemed satisfied.

Sergeant Yaeger announced that the third division had won the prize and the announcement was received with tumultuous applause by the winners but when Sergeant Yaeger suggested they divide the prize, a goose, with the rest groans and cries of "No" followed.

Sergeant Yaeger then suggested some songs and the very rafters rang with the tumultuous strains of "Smiles", "Army Beans", "Good Morning, Mr. Zipp", "Tipperary", "Liberty Bell", "Pull the Shades Down, Mary Ann", "Round the Neck She Work a Yellow Ribbon", "Belgian Roses", "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining", "I Am Sorry I Made Her Cry."

Sergeant Whisler of the second division was called for and received a package wrapped in numberless papers and finally appeared in the form of a goose egg, indicating his body of men had not won. Then Sergeant Joel Crouch, head of the winners, was called for and received the trophy of the victorious platoon—a real, live goose, with which he paraded the hall in no meek and humble manner amid the loud cheers of his mates.

With tremendous applause the flowers on the table were voted Mrs. Carpenter, the capable head cook, for the admirable dinner she had prepared and then with three hearty cheers given for Lieut. Hardwick the affair in the mess hall was ended.

Evening

A fine moving picture show ended the day's program.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Annual Festivities Were a Success in Spite of Quarantine Regulations—Hockey Matches in Forenoon and Dramatic Program in Evening.

While the quarantine regulations affected the number of guests for the Thanksgiving celebration at Illinois Woman's College, it did not militate against the success of the annual festivities. At 9:30 the Freshmen and upper Classmen commenced playing the hockey match of two twenty minute halves. At the end of the first half the score was 2 and 2. The second half failed to record any goals made by either team. The Faculty and "Scrubs" played a twenty minute game while the Freshmen and Upper Classmen were recovering from the strenuous playing of the first half. Much to the chagrin of the "Scrubs" the game proved to be a walk-away for the Faculty, the latter scoring four times.

The Thanksgiving dinner was served at one o'clock after a doxology sung by all. The menu consisted of:

Welch's National Punch
American Roast Turkey Giblet Dressing
Victory Potatoes
French Peas Liberty Rolls
Thanksgiving Salad
Wafers.
Tutti Fruit Ice Cream
Cake Salted Nuts
Coffee.

President Harker, who was Toast Master, expressed the Thanksgiving of the college by enumerating the reasons for thanksgiving, such as cessation of war, returning physical health to the students and the happy condition of the college. Mrs. H. P. Samuell voiced the desire of womanhood to serve mankind. Mr. A. C. Metcalf spoke of the brotherhood of man which was breaking down the archaic notion of the divine right of kings. Mrs. Florence Pierson Hartmann sang "The inner side of every cloud is bright and shining; I therefore turn my clouds about And always wear them inside out To show the lining."

At 7:30 in the Music Hall the college and guests met for the dramatic evening. The first play was "The Twelve Pound Look" by J. M. Barrie. The cast was as follows:

Sir Harry Sims—H. B. Stearns.
Lady Sims—Rena M. Lazelle.
Kate, a stenographer—Janette C. Powell.
Tombs, the butler—A. C. Metcalf.

When the applause subsided, Glee Club sang three numbers under the direction of Mrs. Hartmann. The second play was "The Third Ingredient" by O. Henry. The characters were:

Heltry, a saleswoman—Mary Johnston.
Cecelia, a would-be artist—Clara C. Moore.
The Man, whose name is never known—A. C. Metcalf.

Following the evening's entertainment light refreshments were served in the Domestic Science room.

"THE FARMER"

The farmer who plans his work can with the proper machinery do more and better work and we want to help him.

Anyone who is without a gas engine fails to realize what a help they are. The housewife gets more comfort from the help this little fellow gives than one could possibly tell in a book. It does just one job after another and is always ready. Pumps your water, washes your clothes, skims your milk, churns your butter, saws your wood, shells your corn, grinds your feed, and in fact all these odd jobs are done while you are looking after necessary work at other parts of the farm. It conserves man power and will help feed the world. The combination is what will win—food, money and man power.

Let us help you help us and together we will win. Look at our ad. next week. It will pay you. Jacksonville Farm Supply Co.

To a world war-weary, to people chastened by sacrifices, comes at last the word so often promised, so long delayed, that its coming seems a dream from which we shall presently awaken. Yet it is true! Peace! Peace for the millions who have suffered the rigors and dangers of active service!—Peace for the troubled ones at home who have worked and waited with patient fortitude! And peace, too, for those who have given their dearest ones to the cause—peace in the knowledge that these lives have not been sacrificed in vain.

With Peace comes renewed prosperity. Business will return into its old channels with a new vigor and a new spirit taught us by the discipline of war. Thoughts will return to the enjoyment of the things which make for legitimate comfort and satisfaction with the sense that we have earned them. The most natural expression of this feeling is the enjoyment of good clothes. They promote cheerfulness and inspire self-confidence; they dispel sadness and reanimate our courage. They are the visible signs of our belief in the future of our country.

Let's look forward—not back; let us give thanks this day, both as to mind and dress.
